THE INFALLIBLE WORD

"For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because THOU HAST REJECTED THE WORD OF THE LORD, He hath also rejected thee from being king." (1 Sam. 15: 23.)

I HOLD an impressive lesson for present-day people. Could anything be more solemn as a word of warning from the lips of our Lord to the God-defying, God-denying, devil-delighting, so-called, "divinity doctors" than the terrible sentence, "Because thou hast rejected the Word of the Lord, He also hath rejected thee"?

Not for murder or arson; but for rejecting God's Word!

Will men never learn? Will history be meaningless to men? Will example fail to furnish the lesson? To reject the Word is to reject Himself!

Here is the root sin, sending its shoots down deep into the nature of man. Here is the response to Satan's snare, "Yea, hath God said?" relying upon the reasoning powers of a Satanic nature, voicing their vain thoughts, telling the people what they think.

Rejecting His Word is trifling with Jehovah Himself. Listen to the Son of God as He holds the Old Testament in His holy hands:

"For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled." (Matt. 5: 18.)

The smallest letter in the Hebrew language is so important that plays its part in God's plan for a redeemed race; but the bold brazen modernist, with an effrontery that should shame the devil himself, assumes the power to enlighten God's people about His mistakes!

Every man and woman who has been misled by their teaching, hindered from service by their teaching, both saints and sinners will rise up to testify against them when the books are opened.

DEFINITIONS OF INSPIRATION

DAVID'S—

"Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every false way."—Psalm 119: 128.

MOSES'

"Ye shall not add unto the words which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it."—Deut. 4: 2.

PAUL'S—

"All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable."—2 Tim. 3: 16.

A PREMIER'S TRIBUTE

IN New Zealand there has been a real struggle to have the Bible recognized in the public schools. It would seem that the question is now taking definite form. Recently, a deputation from the various Protestant denominations waited on the Premier and Minister of Education, to ask that legislation be had permitting Bible lessons to be given in the state schools. The Premier intimated that he would not oppose the introduction in parliament of a private measure dealing with the subject.

It was explained by the deputation that they did not ask for religious instruction in the public schools, but simply that the Lord's Prayer be said at the daily opening, a hymn-sing and a Scripture lesson read from a special book of suitable passages chosen from the Bible. Further, the school teachers had expressed themselves as favorable to the introduction of a Bible text-book. Some of the speakers who stressed the need of the Bible reading in schools declared it was the only panacea for the prevalent moral degradation.

The Premier admitted that the Scripture instruction that was given in the schools during his boyhood had been of great value to him all through life; hence, he could not understand much of the opposition at the present time. From a strictly educational point of view, he held that the Bible was "absolutely the best literature in the world, and every pupil and every school in the country would be better for Bible reading."

"We've travelled together,
My Bible and I,
Through all kinds of weather
With smile or with sigh!
In sorrow or sunshine,
In tempest or calm,
Its friendship unchanging,
My lamp and my psalm.

"We've travelled together,
My Bible and I,
When life had grown weary,
And death e'en was nigh:
But all through the darkness
Of mist or of wrong,
I found it a solace,
A prayer and a song!

"So now, who shall part us
My Bible and I?
Shall isms or schisms,
Or "New Lights" who try?
Shall shadow for substance,
Or stone for good bread,

Christ the Head of Creation (Col. 1: 15-17); of His Body (Col. 1: 18); of the Individual (1 Cor. 11: 3).
The Bible called: the Holy Scripture (2 Tim. 3: 15); the Oracles of God (Rom. 3: 2); the Word of God (Mark 7: 18).
Go and sell (Mark 10: 21); Go and show (Luke 17: 14); Go and tell (Matthew 28: 19).

Dead: to the law (Rom. 7: 4); to the world (Col. 2: 20); to sin (Rom. 6: 21); in sin (Eph. 2: 1).
Three kinds of giving: Thanksgiving (Eph. 5: 20); Substance-giving (2 Cor. 9: 7); Self-giving (2 Cor. 8: 6).

MARKINGS FOR YOUR BIBLE

TRANSFORM YOUR CROSS

"Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me." 2 Corinthians xii: 9.

A WOMAN who had in the little garden in front of her home an ugly stump took great trouble to plant flowers around it. At last its ugliness was hidden completely by the flowers. A visitor complimented her on her success. The woman replied, "Well, you see, I found that I could not get rid of it, so I made it raise nasturtiums."

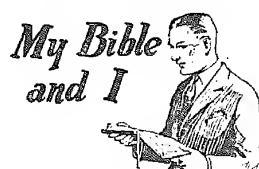

That is good, sound sense. If we have things in our lives that annoy us, and which cannot be removed, let us see if we cannot turn them to good account and make them bear flowers.

BLONDIN

BLONDIN's assistant said in the course of a conversation, "I had a perfect trust in Blondin. He would never make a mistake on the tight-rope." Blondin had walked this man hundreds of times, at a dizzy height, across the tight-rope, watched by thousands of spectators below. Though it was enough to strain the nerve of any one, the assistant never lost his confidence in Blondin's power. Blondin never failed his assistant, but, being human, he might sooner or later have done so. How much more truly we should trust a God of whom we can say, "He cannot make a mistake."

THE FAR-AWAY LOOK

AN oculist advised a literary worker who came to him for new glasses to go out on her porch several times every day and look for five or ten minutes at the mountains which were always in view in the distance. "The far-away look," he said, "will rest your eyes after your long hours with manuscripts and proofsheets. This will be better for you than new glasses." The advice proved most wise. She could do her prosaic task-work better after looking at something lofty and sublime. And we need the far-away look to keep our spiritual life from losing its tone.

Supplant its sound wisdom,
Give folly instead?
"Oh, no! my dear Bible,
Exponent of light!
Thou Sword of the Spirit,
Put error to flight;
And still through life's journey,
Until my last sigh,
We'll travel together,
My Bible and I."

THE HERO'S PENALTY

ARMY OFFICER INTERVENES
SOME PURPOSE

IT is not always good to be a hero. The survivor of a shipwreck who was recently found in the Pacific by Army Officers had paid dearly for his fame. After having fought the elements in an open boat, endured incredible hardships, and won the terrible battle against hunger and thirst, he came to land where plenty of people were ready to join him in celebration of his return. The end was written when a policeman found him drunk, trashed, and bleeding in the gutter and laid him up out of pity.

He told the magistrate that if he could reach a ship at Newcastle, England, he was sure of further employment, and the Army Officers in turn undertook the responsibility of escorting him thither. The magistrate was grateful, but not so grateful as the unfortunate hero when he reached the vessel which would take him away from the consequences of his bravery.

EVENING

The day is done; the clock is striking eight.
The children now are snug and safe abed:

Still on the pillow lies each little head.

Tired out, although they begged to sit up late,
I cover the fire within the kitchen grate.

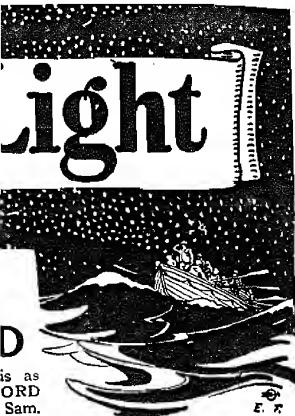

Mix up a light sponge for tomorrow's bread,
Wind up the faithful clock with quiet tread.

Depart, and leave my kitchen to its fate.

The library calls me to my favorite nook
Beside the table, underneath the light.

Here shall I joy me with a gracious book,
Until at last I bid my world good night.

Oh, peaceful dreams beneath the homestead roof!
Ye straighten out life's tangled warp and woof!

MESSAGES WHICH ILLUMINE THE WAY OF LIFE

SATAN'S CAPITAL

Indwelling Sin is an Accumulating Principle

ENTIRE Sanctification is an instantaneous Salvation. It is an act of the Holy Ghost, according to our faith, by which sin is entirely expelled from the soul, when the Blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sin; it includes an instantaneous power, then given, always to cleave to God.

A snake may cast its coat, but keep its venom. A sinner may cast off much of the "old man" in outward and even in inward character, but if not cleansed from all sin, there is a sneaky inclination in his nature that may wound others, or the cause of God, or himself eternally. That was a shrewd saying of one, that "a confession of religion without purity is like a fair glove drawn over a foul hand." Purity is the prime jewel of moral worth in man or woman. What use is the most graceful dress humanity ever wore, if the one who wears it has a filthy person? We would shrink from such a creature; but such is he who makes a graceful profession of religion and carries about him an unclean spirit, an impure heart; he lacks the prime jewel of moral worth—purity.

Let that new Convert hearken! The remains of sin, yea, the seed of every sin is within till you are cleansed throughout—spirit, soul, and body. Those seeds have taken root; they are rooted in the heart among the plants of grace like weed-roots in a bed of vegetables. They must be uprooted, or they will dwarf, if not destroy, the plants of grace within you.

Indwelling sin is Satan's capital. He who has a small capital will keep adding to it. It is Satan's investment, and he will not neglect it: the Devil's stock, and he will watch its rise and fall in the market so closely as any stock-jobber. Sin is in itself an accumulating principle.

A slight cold is prone to additions. It is so with indwelling sin. Its nature is to render you cold to duty, and cold in your affections towards God and His people. It contracts the fine affections of your soul as a cold the fine vessels of your body, rendering you chilly and shivering in the presence of a good Salvation fire.

You have the elements of thisague within; it has begun, in fact, in these incipient stages. Get rid of it. The Blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from it. The medicine is ready if your faith is ready. Why not now? "All things are possible to him that believeth." Indwelling sin has a lodgment in your nature, and every exposure to "evil air," to bad company, and bad influence will add to it. Yourague fits will increase.

Purity of heart is your remedy. Are you clear in your conversion? If not, in all likelihood you will wander back to the Devil. Be not deceived in your intentions regarding sin. You have put it away, surely you have, if regenerated. But have you parted with it for ever? Have you quite turned away your eye from it? Do you feel any lurking inclinations toward it? Have you any lingering after it? Do you hate it?

Many deal with their sins as the mother of Moses dealt with her boy. She put him away, but provided for him. She hid him in the ark of bulrushes, as if she had forsaken him quite; but kept her eye upon him, and at last became his nurse. Thus many may leave, but still love, their sins. They hide them from the eyes of others, but their hearts go after them. At last they take their sins to nurse.

Can you detect anything of this in yourself? If so, then you stand in deadly peril. Make a clean breast of it; resolve upon heart purity; it is your only safety. The blessing is your spiritual birthright if you are born from above. You will backslide, perhaps foully and fatally, without it.

God commands you to be holy: "Be ye holy, for I, the Lord your God, am holy." How can you continue justified in disobeying so plain a command? "For this is the will of God, even your Sanctification." How can you retain the blessing in question with a will so contrary to God's will? Holiness preserves itself and those who possess it; this is great encouragement to seek it.

STOCK-TAKING

"There were great searchings of heart." — Judges 5:16

By Adjutant David Snowden, T. H. Q.

PURITY OF HEART

NOT love in the Salvationist will make him lay health, time, goods, and all he possesses at the feet of his Lord, and there use all in blessing and saving the souls of men.

Now it is this spirit of love which makes this blessed heat in the souls of men and women. As the devil lights and feeds the fires of malice, ambition and selfishness, pride, lust and the other evils that encourage and strengthen souls in their war with God, and carries them down the broad way to destruction, so the fierce heat of pure love, created and maintained by the Holy Spirit makes the Salvationist watch and pray, toil and suffer, regardless of what it costs him in doing so.

But the Holy Spirit only dwells in all His mastering power and burning zeal, in souls that have been cleansed from evil; so that if you are resolved to spend your life in blessing and saving men, and fighting for your Lord, you must have a pure heart.

From "Purity of Heart" By the Founder.

LIKE JESUS

THE Apostle John, in speaking of those who expect to see Jesus, and to be like Him in Heaven, says, "And every one that hath this hope in Him, purifieth himself, even as He is pure." That is a lofty standard of purity, for there was no impurity in Jesus. He allowed no unclean habits. He indulged in no impure thoughts or desires. He used no unkind words. He kept Himself pure in all things. So we are to be pure in heart and in life, as He was.

GOOD WORK

DO good work for its own sake. Do not allow yourself to be influenced to any contrary course by considerations of personal ease or worldly gain, by the example of your fellows, or by anything else. Make up your mind to turn out good work, whether you are sufficiently paid for it or not, on the principle that what ever is worth doing at all is worth doing well.

GOD'S WAY IS BEST

WHENEVER was man, who has been called and trained by God to do some great life's work, the better for getting his own way? The best of God's servants have ever either been thwarted, or had to tread the path of seeming loss to find the road of eternal gain for themselves and others. We learn this lesson in after-life, that if we could have got what we most fondest or wanted in our youth, we should either have been turned out spoiled children, with their whimsical ways, or been bitterly disappointed.

From "Gerhard Tersteegen" By Commissioner W. Elwin Olliphant.

COMING along the road the other day my eyes fell upon the following words displayed in the window of a large store. "Closed for the day in order to take stock." Just as the business man deems it advisable to forfeit the takings of a whole day, and in some instances longer periods, so the Salvation Soldier will profit much if, from time to time, he will get alone with God and take spiritual stock.

What is the Purpose of Stock-taking?

To find out whether a gain or loss has been made. Any manager of a business house takes stock at least once, and sometimes more often, during the year. If he did not do so, things would go woefully wrong. Slow-moving or dead lines of stock might accumulate and grow, and necessary or quick selling materials run out of stock. There has been so much bought, so much sold, a balance must be struck between them and profit and loss estimated. It must be done carefully, conscientiously and thoroughly. Every item must be noted and counted; to make a mere review won't be worth a rap. Then comes the adjusting or straightening out of things. The over accumulation of this must be thrown down, the goods which have deteriorated and cannot be sold must be thrown away. It is an use keeping them on the shelves any longer and sacrificing good room for those things which are inferior. "Such and such" has run low, and it must be replenished right away, everything is straightened out, a knowledge of what is in stock, what is needed and how much has been made during the year is ascertained and off the business man goes for another period.

As Salvation Soldiers, stock must be taken—not simply making up the mind to do so some day in the future. Shut down for a while now and look things over. Do not put it off, but actually stop and take an inventory.

All human efforts require inspection. How else can errors be detected and mistakes rectified? This principle is accepted in all spheres of human activity, from the mother's care of the small child whose hands need inspection, in order that she may judge the efficiency of the soap and water process, to the Minister of Parliament, who inquires into the vast concerns of the nation. The locomotive engine must be overhauled. Who does not know the familiar tap of the man inspecting the wheels of the long-distance train? It has, I believe, been estimated that he finds nine hundred and ninety-nine wheels in a satisfactory condition for every one proven faulty. Without the inspection there would be no security for the passengers.

People whose business it is to appraise the condition of things have become as important to the carrying on of any successful enterprise as those who are actually engaged in the work. Experts in all manner of things are needed to examine and point out what is faulty, weak, or incapable of improvement. What disasters have come from a neglect to do this? Think of the ship that puts out to sea with the undiscovered leak, or the child who carries a deadly infection to school!

How many souls have been lost! How many saints have gone back into sin for the want of timely inspection! I read of a man recently who went to consult a doctor about some disquieting symptom, only to hear that it was too late for him to be helped. Had he enquired a few months sooner he might have been cured of the now fatal malady.

How readily people disregard unsatisfactory symptoms in respect to the soul's health, instead of going to the Great Physician and saying with David, "Search me, O God, and know my heart, try me and know my thoughts."

Isaiah acted wisely when he decided to take stock and find out how he stood in his experience. Things were not going as well as he felt they should, and because of this he became dissatisfied and rightly so. The Bible tells us that he got alone with God.

It is. Soul inspection can only be undertaken by the individual concerned. Other human agents may help by giving certain directions, but only the man himself can tell his true state.

A Profitable Soul-Inspection Requires.—

1. A sincere desire to know the truth.
2. Courage to acknowledge the need when it is discovered.
3. Determination to put right what is at fault.

In such a spirit, by God's help, all may know the truth, and if these revelations were acted upon there would be fewer backsliders. As a rule backsliding comes through neglect to find out the true condition of the soul.

Thank God there is no need for any one of us having this unhappy experience. God is for us, all the resources of the God-head are at our disposal, but we must constantly utilise them and continually pray and consult every man's business guide, which is the Bible. It is filled with instructions on how to win and make a success of life.

AND PONDER THIS

A TESTIMONY AND THE RESULT

"EIGHT months ago," writes a Salvation Army Bandsman, ill-health, from one Corps to another. Having received a hearty welcome from the Officer, I was asked to give my testimony. In doing so I alluded to the fact that it was to the influence of godly parents and The Salvation Army that I owed my spiritual standing; remarking further, what a glorious thing it was, when parents had gone to the Glory Land, to feel their influence about you. Perhaps, I added, there might be some one in the meeting who remembered when a saintly father and mother taught them the way to Heaven, but today, had to confess that a sinful life had wrecked the influence of those days. What a glorious thing it would be, I stated, should any such be in this service, to have established the glorious prospect of meeting and re-uniting with parents once again.

To this testimony came an interesting sequel. A man and his wife, taking a walk on this particular night, went into an hotel. The Salvation Army Band was just passing, so they decided to follow it to the Hall. Becoming interested in the meeting they stayed to the finish. Eight months after passing down the street with my instrument under my arm, I was stopped by a finely built man coming in the opposite direction. Taking my arm, he said, "I am glad I have found you. I have been looking for you for some time. You remember," he added, "that night when you gave your testimony at the witness-meeting?" "Yes," I answered. "Well," said the man, "both my wife and myself had been brought up by Godly parents, but we had not been in a place of worship for twenty years. So gripped were we by your words that we could not get away from them. Arriving home we knelt down and gave our hearts to our parents' God."

"Three days afterwards, my wife was taken ill, and only lived a few days. I have just been visiting her grave. The last words she said were,

"Thank God I ever heard that Bandsman's testimony. I know it is well with my soul, and I am going to meet mother and father in Heaven."

With these words upon her lips she passed away. We were brought up as Westleyians, and I went back to my own denomination, and am now the Local Preacher's "Pain."

CAN YOU QUALIFY?

The Deputy Warden of Kingston Penitentiary can place ten Salvation Army Bandsmen in positions, providing they are overseas men, not over 38 years of age and five feet, eight inches, in stocking feet. Comrades desiring consideration in this regard are urged to immediately communicate with Colonel Otway, 20 Albert Street, Toronto.

CALLED HIGHER

SISTER MRS. TAVARES
Southampton (Bermuda)

A devoted Comrade has been removed by death. With no sign of illness the passing of our Comrade was a shock to the countryside. Her time and talents were consecrated to His service and she will be missed.

The funeral service was attended by a large number of people. The Memorial Service was conducted by Mrs. Commandant Hibcock, assisted by Corps Sergeant Major Groover, Bandmaster H. Sammons, Sergeant Richardson and brother E. Bean, all of Hamilton Corps. Our Comrade's favorite songs were sung. Several spoke of her song and consistent life.

Conviction was brought to the mind of Mrs. Hibcock spoke of the possibility of a victorious life after death. The Band played the "Dead March in" and hearts were stirred. May God bless and comfort the husband and small children.

SISTER MRS. SOUTHWORTH
London IV.

For many years our Sister labored faithfully at Thedford Corps, and since coming to London took her stand for God. Before crossing the River she testified to her readiness.

The funeral was conducted by Captain Tate and Lieutenant DeWeese. In the Memorial Service Young People's Sergeant-Major Clark spoke of her loyalty and faithfulness to God and the Army.

SISTER MRS. WILLIAMS
Dido (Newfoundland)

The death angel claimed Sister Mrs. Williams recently. She was ill but six hours when the end came. She was a member of the Home League and was ever anxious to do her part. A large crowd gathered at the funeral service and graveside.

A Memorial Service was held and many tributes were paid to our late Comrade. One seeker sought Salvation. May God comfort the husband and eight children who are left to mourn.

SISTER MRS. E. BROWN
Wesleyville (Nfld.)

With regret we report that death has removed a devoted worker from our ranks, in the person of Sister Mrs. E. Brown.

The funeral service, which was impressive and largely attended, was conducted by Mrs. Adjutant Woodland. The Songsters sang at the graveside. "God moves in a mysterious way." Our Sister leaves to mourn a husband and an infant baby daughter. May God bless and sustain them, especially the husband, who feels his loss so keenly.

On the following Sunday night a Memorial Service was held. Two Sisters came to the Mercy Seat before the Bible lesson was given and three others followed.

Mrs. D. Sturge.

SISTER MRS. REDMAN
Somerset (Bermuda)

On October 2nd the death angel visited our Corps and took from us Sister Mrs. Redman, after a few days of suffering in the King Edward Hospital. She has gone from our ranks, but not from our hearts. May God abundantly bless and comfort the bereaved ones.

J. D. Sturge.

Captain Knapp

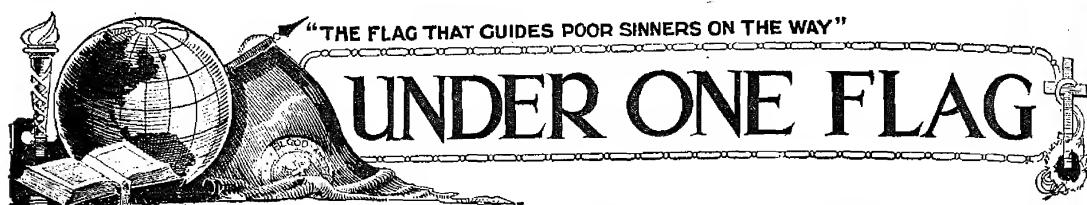

We have been having some good Meetings lately and four seekers sought Salvation during the week.

The offense recently covered over one thousand two hundred miles, during which time a number of Lumber Camps, Silver Mines, and a coal mine, were visited. Meetings were held in the Camps, houses and stations, and much good news was reported.

Some of these people had never seen a Salvation Army soldier before, as for instance, in one place, a woman fainted thinking we were the police.

JAVANESE LADY'S TRIBUTE TO THE WORKERS IN THE ARMY EYE HOSPITAL

ON their way from Singapore to Batavia, Java, two Army Officers were approached by a lady traveller on the same boat, who said,

"I have such a desire to speak to you, and to tell you how grateful my sisters and brothers are to its workers for what they have done for us!"

"Just before Christmas my mother returned from my Eye Hospital in Semarang. She had suffered sorrow on sorrow, the deepest being that her favorite son had died. Then came the great illness which left her blind. She became bitter and melancholy and only wished to die. It was dreadful for us; and she used to be so cheerful.

"Then her doctor in a well-known hospital in Java, failing to do anything for her, advised that she should go to your Doctor Wille. She did this, staying in The Army Hospital for six months. He could not cure her, though he gave her much relief, and she could distinguish between persons and things. But her stay in the hospital helped her in another direction, for she returned home another being, and that for us was as great as though her sight had been restored.

"All day long now she is praising God that she has other children and a work yet to be done in the world. Our happiness cannot be described. She is a true Sunbeam and a blessing to us all.

"You never told us what the sisters were like in The Army Hospital," we said to her the other day. But she only smiled. Then she said, "I do not know if they are tall or small, dark or fair; I never asked. What I do know is that they are marvellous; they are as good and kind as God's angels in Heaven!"

This lady is but one of many who are full of deepest gratitude to God and The Army for the ministrations they have received at the Hospital at Semarang. This reputation has spread all over the Dutch ladies; it extends to the Malay Peninsula and China, and patients come from all these places.

SOUTH AFRICAN NATIVE WORK

IMPORTANT REARRANGEMENTS

THE General has decided upon important rearrangements in the administration of The Army's Native Work in South Africa.

The Native Work will now be administered from Johannesburg instead of from Cape Town, one important reason being the growth of the work northwards, and another the fact that both Training and general oversight will be more effective. Lieutenant-Colonel Frederick Clark, the Chief Secretary, under Commissioner Hay, for Native Affairs, will have his Headquarters at Johannesburg.

A Training Institute will be opened in Johannesburg for Native Cadets. A site has been purchased, and the necessary buildings will be erected forthwith, providing accommodation for forty Cadets. A section of the Institute will be set aside for the improvement of Native Officers' education. This Training Institute will be under the direction of Brigadier Soul, who will retain the command of the Central Division.

The Mountain View Institute will be used for the prospective Cadets who require further education preparatory to entering the Johannesburg Institute.

The Pearson Settlement will be continued as a Missionary Farm. A new Centre will be erected on land recently given by the Government of Southern Rhodesia in the Chirweshi Reserve, and it is proposed to name this after the late Commissioner Howard.

Native Halls are being erected at Pretoria, Durban, and Chiweshi.

SALVATION INCIDENTS

THE JAR OF SALT

VISITING an invalid woman-Salvationist, an Officer noticed a small jar of salt placed in a conspicuous place on a shelf near the bed.

"What is this for?" inquired the Officer.

"Ah," said the Salvationist, her face lighting up at the mention of it, "that salt is very precious to me." Upon further inquiry, the woman related that on one occasion she sent her daughter to a shop for a bar of salt and the shop-keeper wrapped it in a paper which proved to be part of a copy of "The War Cry." From something she read in that paper, she continues, her interest in The Army and religion was kindled, and some weeks later she got converted. The Salvationist keeps the portion of salt as a precious reminder.

FROM SALES TO PRAYER

A MINISTER who had helped on several occasions with The Army's Self-Denial Effort, asked a Salvationist to sing at a sale of work in connection with his church. He willingly consented and put a couple of Salvation songs in his portfolio. One of these "The Christ of every day," so overcame the minister that he stopped the sale of work for nearly ten minutes and converted it into a Prayer Meeting.

A WIFE'S LAMENT

SATURDAY night Open-air Meeting had been held in a market-place. At its close the Officer spoke to some of the women who had been standing round. Pointing to the hotel opposite one of them said, "Ah! life isn't much when your man's in there. He's only started going there just lately. I try to make the home as nice as I can to keep him away, but he says he must go there for the company. If it wasn't that I could come out and listen to The Army sometimes I feel I should go mad!"

RIVETED

SHAVING himself one morning a young man lost one of the rivets from his razor, which had become loose. Taking the razor with him to the motor works where he was employed, he purposed securing a rivet from the storeroom. In the room, which contained thousands of rivets, he put out his hand to reach one when he heard a voice saying, "They are not yours!" Looking about him and seeing an one, he again stretched forth his hand and once more he heard the reproving voice. He hurried back to his bench. Although throughout that day another voice was whispering, "Why be so particular; what's one rivet among so many?" the young man refused to be influenced. On his return home that night he went to a neighboring shop and bought a rivet, and great peace of conscience was his reward!

CAUGHT FIRST TIME

WILL Wheeler entered an Army Hall and sat in the gallery. It was the first Army Meeting he had ever attended, and he felt very strange. Although a respectable fellow and reared in a good home he had never been converted. As the Meeting proceeded he became keenly conscious of his need of Salvation. He endeavoured to stifle the feelings and as soon as the Prayer Meeting commenced he left the building.

When only a little distance from the Hall he haltingly retraced his steps, drawn, it seemed, by an irresistible hand. A Salvationist, standing in the entrance of the hall, saw him, and realising his intent, took his arm and led him to the penitent-form where he obtained his venesa,

Reflections on Bombay—East and West Commingle—A 'Last Supper' Council—Greetings to the King—Graveside Meditations—Aboard Once More

Tuesday, January 23rd.—Bombay, Officers from Denmark, United States, England, Switzerland, by Cingalese, by Tamils, and others. All seemed one in gratitude and praise to God for the opportunity before us.

Bombay impresses one strongly. It is the second city in India, an island called to Great Britain by Portugal and rented to us for £10 a year to the old East India Company! Now, a very fine city and being greatly improved; much French in its modern additions; said to be most cosmopolitan centre in the Eastern world.

Friday, 26th.—Good night. At work Officers' Meetings morning and evening. Maraties. Here are men of fire and zeal. Afternoon, private interviews, important and difficult.

Thursday, 25th.—Fairish sleep. Very warm. Hotel suffers from service of new hands. A strike three months ago led the manager to "sack the lot." Poor fellows!

Bombay and the Esplanade; passed the spot where Tucker (Commissioner) and the place in which he was locked up. Saw our old Headquarters. I almost repined; it is worth far more than the Railway Company paid us for it. We have now nothing approaching it for importance of position.

Here, Lieut. Mapp (Commissioner) told me with deep joy that he was saved. Here, dear Emma (Consul Booth-Tucker) worked. Here, Secundar began.

Many problems have taxed me to day.

Worked part of the night.

Wednesday, 24th.—Weather depressing, but keeping better. Staff Council. All Staff Officers in India and Ceylon, Indian and European present. First since 1886. Make a day for a wonder.

Very impressive appearance. Eastern News from Europe very restless. Staff mingling according to rank with France and the Ruhr—looks as though their Western comrades. A refreshment she might make a blunder and a long and inspiring day. Prayer by very crude one,

Some very high moments. Mapp greatly helped us. An international conference at the wharf, including representative of Sir Narayan Chandrarakar.

He welcomed me on arrival and now he bids me "God-speed." Final words with some Officers and boarded the P. & O. boat "Naldera" for Marseilles. Captain found me out at once, and introduced himself and presented the Purser, offering every service they could render. Sailed at 4 o'clock.

This cabin not so well situated as on Macedonia, but I think I shall manage. Settled down. Deeply thankful for all God has done for me on this journey—His particular Providence, His personal presence, His conscious favor. O Lord, Thy loving kindness is before me and I have walked in Thy truth.

Began reading some London documents, of which I have a large number, to master.

Sunday, 28th.—At sea. A quiet day. Felt justified in relaxing somewhat. Interesting talk with Mapp, Ob. India! Only Christ can save it!

Smith very tired, and no wonder.

He deserves a medal.

My steward comes from Leyton. Was converted at Leytonstone, but the war, etc., has turned him aside. I must help him if I can.

Monday, 29th.—(On P. and O. "Naldera" from Bombay.) At sea. Very disturbed night. What a fickle state of sleep! Making a good journey; 47 knots noon yesterday to noon to-day.

Dictated to Smith and attacked work performance put aside for this journey. All the same, very tired and lazy! Got off some telegrams to different parts of the world,

THE WAY OF TRUTH

In connection with the yearly Feriera or religious festival at Kandy, Ceylon, for which thousands of people flock into the capital, a strenuous
Open-air campaign was arranged.
Amid great difficulties Officers stood in the "Open-air" attracting great crowds, whose attention was gripped in spite of the numerous counter attractions.

At each Meeting Bible portions were read and copies of the Scripture offered for sale. For these there was an eager demand. On one occasion a comrade noticed a Buddhist priest standing on the outskirts of the crowd, following the proceedings very closely. He approached with a copy of the Gospel, which the priest accepted. Several bystanders objected, saying that it was not fitting for a priest to buy a Christian book.
"What do you care whether I am saved or not?" replied the priest. "If I read this book and find therein the Way of Truth I shall follow its teaching. That is what I must do!"

Amongst the thirty-eight seekers in the inside Meeting were Buddhists and Hindus who had journeyed to Kandy in search of amusement or to perform their "ponbah" at the Great Temple.

Captain Bertram Davis, the energetic Commanding Officer of that young, but thriving centre of Salvationism. Certainly, if the demonstration of enthusiasm marking the opening of their new Citadel may be taken as a sign, Lansing comrades will always hail with keen delight the recollection of this event which in such an exhilarating style was led by Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, supported by Colonel and Mrs. Powley and a group of Territorial Officers.

The strains of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," in the short Dedication Service, outside the Citadel, struck a keynote which, as the Chief Secretary later remarked, "formed the beautiful theme of the whole evening's function."

Staff-Captain Best, the Chancellor, led in prayer, and then, upon receiving the key from Brigadier Jennings, the Commissioner officially opened the building. The crowd soon taxed the place to capacity evidencing interest and delight in all seen and heard.

Brigadier Walton, the Divisional Commander, lined out the opening song, and the subsequent prayer offered by the Chief Secretary, called down from God a special endowment of His blessing upon the new project.

Earlscourt Band, under the leader of Bandmaster A. Higgins, provided the musical items of the evening, and this combination showed marked consideration for the size of may be termed an ideal opening of the building. The renderings of Service.

and Staff

Five Nurses receive Diplomas—One Hundred

THE Graduating Exercises of the 1923 Class of Nurses, who have been trained in the Ottawa Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, were held in Ottawa I. Citadel on Thursday, November 15th. Included in the number were Captain Hussey, Lieutenant M. Smith, Sergeant Yelland, Misses Johnstone, Potter, Derby and Hufferman, and Mrs. Petrie.

Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton journeyed to the Capital City for this special event. The Citadel was packed; a large number of friends and twelve doctors being present.

Following prayer by Major Layman and a Scripture reading by Mrs. Sowton, Dr. J. E. Craig, Medical Superintendent, reviewed the splendid work achieved in the Hospital and congratulated the graduates.

The Doctor gave an historical review of The Army's Maternity Work in Ottawa, he himself having been associated with the work since 1897. It was of particular joy to the Medical Superintendent to know that each building occupied since the initial one has been larger than its predecessor, and now The Army's Hospital, opened about one year ago by Canada's popular Governor-General, accommodates one hundred patients.

He paid tribute to the faithfulness and skill of the various Matrons, including Adjutant Aldridge, whose labors with the graduates were soon to bear fruit.

Turning to those about to graduate, Dr. Craig gave them some valuable advice. "I wish to remind you that you stand on the threshold of a very responsible calling and you should have a due appreciation of the responsibilities you have undertaken. Human life is the most precious thing on earth. When a physician undertakes to guide a fellow-being through a critical illness he assumes a responsibility greater than that required by any other calling. Your responsibility is second only to that of a physician."

"Do nothing that will not stand the strongest scrutiny and the severest scrutiny. Strive to make your manners and methods faultless and observe punctuality and system in all things."

"Be faithful and loyal to the physicians with whom you work," he continued, "and never cast discredit on their work. Your duty is hard, but greatest of all your rewards is the consciousness of overcoming difficulties and of a knowledge that suffering has been relieved. Real enjoyment and happiness is the reward of hard work."

"Henceforth, you will be thrown on your own resources. You will encounter conditions which in the nature of things do not exist in hospitals, and you will have only your own judgment to rely upon.
You have been trained in the most modern methods of Maternity Nursing. It is not in your power to undertake general nursing, but you can enter upon the work for which you have been trained with confidence and courage, for your training has been thorough and the facilities for practice unlimited. Let integrity and industry be your guiding principles. Buckle on your armor with the determination to succeed, remembering that to deserve success is the surest way to attain it."

"Being human you must live by your practice, just as others live by their vocations. The practice of nursing is your work. It is as honest, as useful, and as legitimate as that of any other vocation.
No one carves his livelihood more fairly, and few more dearly, than the conscientious nurse."

Commissioner Sowton congratulated those who had successfully passed the respective examinations. He, too, made some terse remarks concerning the successful Nurse and urged the graduates to live up to their golden opportunities.

Adjutant Aldridge, the Matron, gave the Florence Nightingale Pledge and the presentation of Diplomas and Pins was made by Mrs. Commissioner Sowton and Major Holman (retired). The last named Officer was in charge of the Ottawa Hospital for ten years and many old friends were pleased to meet her once again.

Brigadier DesBrisay gave a brief address and extended her personal congratulations to the successful graduates. She also read two telegrams sent to the Class. Lieut.-Colonel Noble closed in prayer.

Upwards of one hundred were present at the reception in the Hospital.
Much interest was shown amongst the profession as well as friends.

A n interesting and pleasing ceremony took place at the Evangeline Hospital on Saturday afternoon, November 17th, when five pupil nurses, having passed the required examinations, received their diplomas and became graduates of Maternity Nursing. Those comprising the Class were Miss Mable VanWart, Miss Blanche Bursey, Miss Hazel Kaye, Miss Minnie DeWolf and Miss Mary Short.

Commissioner Sowton presided and was supported by Lieut.-Colonel Adby, Brigadier DesBrisay, the Women's Social Secretary, from Toronto;
Rev. S. S. Poole, Doctors Logie and Allingham, of St. John, and the Matron, Adjutant Fagner. The spacious reception room was tastefully decorated with ferns and cut flowers and about one hundred guests gathered to participate in the service and to congratulate the Nurses.

The service was opened with a hymn, after which Major Burrows invoked God's blessing on the gathering. Commissioner Sowton expressed his pleasure at being present. His practical advice to the nurses was very helpful. He also thanked the doctors of the hospital staff for the faithful and splendid service rendered to the hospital and the Graduating Class. Mrs. Logie sang sweetly "Resignation."

Dr. Logie read the hospital report for the year as follows: Two hundred private and semi-private patients were treated during the year, and fifty-nine public patients; two hundred and fifty-three babies were born in the hospital during the year.
Two hundred and sixty days' hospital treatment had been given patients unable to pay; four hundred and sixteen days' treatment to public patients and fifty-two months' treatment of babies;
this charitable work for the year costing about $2,000.

Certain improvements have been made, the most important of which is the equipment of a ward for public work and for the poorer patients who are unable to pay. This ward has been filled almost to its capacity ever since its opening last June. The hospital accommodation is still inadequate to meet the demands made upon it.
Mention was made of the need of a ward for the Home girls, which would greatly increase the facilities for carrying on this work. Financial assistance from Territorial Headquarters was found necessary, because of lack of funds; a total of about $5,000 being advanced. It was hoped that a substantial grant from the city could be negotiated.

Dr. Logie also touched on the conscientious and hard work of the Graduating Class. They had had a splendid opportunity of becoming efficient in this particular line of nursing. During the eighteen months they have been training they had assisted in three hundred and fifty-one cases each, which was an average of eighty cases each.
Their practical work had been splendid and in every respect they had shown themselves reliable and trustworthy. The result of their examinations had been satisfactory, Miss Short and Miss DeWolf leading with a percentage of more than 90 per cent. Great credit was due to Miss Irons, the instructor of the class, for the very fine showing they made.

Of Adjutant Fagner, Superintendent of the Hospital, praise could not be too great for her splendid administration and untiring efforts to bring the hospital up to the standard it had attained. The reading of the report closed with a note of appreciation to the citizens of St. John for their help in the past and the desire to be of service in the future.

Mrs. Thomas Guy delighted the audience with a solo "Rest in the Lord," and Dr. J. H. Allingham administered the "Florence Nightingale Pledge," Rev. Dr. Poole, in the absence of Dr. Roberts, who was unavoidably detained, presented the Class with their Diplomas and Miss Irons, plumed on their badges. Little Phyllis, four years of age, very prettily presented to the Class a floral tribute. Brigadier DesBrisay then delivered a splendid address, Lieut.-Colonel Adby sang a solo. Major Burrows pronounced the benediction, after which luncheon was served.

The guests were conducted through the Hospital by the nurses and were charmed with the immaculate condition of the institution. Especially were the nurseries of interest and in spite of the very loud chorus being sung by some of the babies, it was very difficult to keep the visitors moving on.

DISPATCHES WHICH TELL OF SERVICE AND SALVATION

TEMPLE (Toronto)

Adjutant and Mrs. Ham, Lieutenant Powell

"Consecrated music by consecrated Bandsmen" was the slogan for the Band week-end recently held at the Temple Church.

The fine Musical on the Saturday night was preceded over by Major Taylor, Editor of the "War Cry," and the sound friend of Bandsmen. Each item drew well-merited applause. The Commandant was well-pleased and will be the scene of a similar festival the first Saturday in December.

In the Open-air and Inside Meetings on Sunday each Bandsman evidently relied on the glorious opportunity of service. Every graduate of the Bandsmen in point of service, took the morning lesson. His business experience helped him to draw over up-to-date matter in presenting the truth.

Major Taylor, the Adjutant had charge of the night service. There was a cold, damp, wet atmosphere outside the building, but inside life and liberty characterized every part of the Meeting. Band and Guests with their musical gifts, Major Taylor's vocal solo prepared the way for the Major's Salvation address which hit home with force to sinner and backslidden. It was a surprise to know that hardly had the Major finished before the first man wounded his way to the Mercy Seat, saying he was come "I want that passport to Heaven." St. Paul Clayton conducted the Prayer Meeting, and our speakers, after the service, on their way to the Mercy Seat, until the glorious text of salvation was registered. Hallelujah! The awakening spirit is abroad in the old Temple.

MONCTON I.

Commandant and Mrs. Hargrave

Sunday, November 18th, marked the launching of our Young People's Campaign. We, the Bandsmen, and our Comrades gathered together. Four dividers sought the Saviour. Monday night a bright Salvation Meeting was held by Captain Macmillan.

The family gathering on Tuesday night was a blessed time. Following a helpful address by the Commandant, the Comrades consecrated themselves to God. Our Young People's Meeting was concluded by Captain Macmillan and three Juntas were captured from the enemy ranks.

For the first time the playing of the Band, the singing of songs and the stirring address of the Adjutant to make the Meeting a helpful one. One seeker surrendered.

SUDBURY

Captain and Mrs. Dickinson

On a recent Tuesday we were favored by a visit from Mrs. Brigadier Green, also Mrs. and Mrs. Mott. The inspiring talk delivered by Mrs. Green will long be remembered by all who were present. After the well-foreshadowed service meeting at night, two boys volunteered at the Meeting. An old comrade, also a claim of the Saviour, re-consecrated his life to God and is now at the battle-front.

OWEN SOUND

Commandant and Mrs. Cavender

The Owen Sound Bandsmen were honored to be guests of the Commandant and Mrs. Cavender on Saturday night. Following the Band's meeting the Commandant and Mrs. Cavender had a most interesting and instructive service meeting. The Colonels and Adjutants of the various Bands had the privilege of addressing the audience.

On Sunday after the well-foreshadowed service meeting, we had the joy of seeing one seeking pardon.

Florance Downs, Corps Cadet.

CARLETON PLACE

Captain, Captain Bell and Mrs. Naylor

The week-end Meetings were of a very helpful character. On Saturday night the Corps Cadets led on and they did well, bringing home to the listeners many of the exciting events of the Campaign which had been transferred from our midst.

On Sunday morning a fourfold service was held for the holiday. They were given a hearty welcome. Captain Bell had been elected Senior Cadet under the Bandsmen and Fire Brigades.

Sunday morning after a short Open-air the Comrades marched to the Public School grounds, where a service was held in commemoration of Armistice Day.

EARLSCOURT (Toronto)

On a recent Sunday we had Staff-Captain and Mrs. Bristow with us. Their labors were very much appreciated, especially Mrs. Bristow's lesson at night.

One seeking sought God. Last Sunday we had Staff-Captain and Mrs. Bristow with us. The Staff-Captain's Holiness lesson was a feast. We finished up with four seekers at the cross at night, making a total of five.

We had four open-airings going at the same time on a recent Sunday night. We are compelled to have overflow meetings in the small Hall at the back of the Curch, also the basement

HANOVER

Captain Danby, Lieutenant Wiles

Thanksgiving week-end will stand out in our memory as a success, with special blessing and cheer. The Meetings were held by Captain D. Noble of Toronto East, D.J.Q.C.

Several Comrades who have for some time felt it their duty to take their stand in the Open-air, but always lacked courage to do so, claimed the victory on Saturday night. Naturally it was a charge in charge and to Captain Noble, more especially since the latter was the pioneer Officer of Hanover.

A beautiful spirit prevailed during the entire week-end, and each one present was inspired.

TODMORDEN

Captain Gage, Lieutenant Clarke

Last Sunday we had with us Adjutant Atkinson. The power of God was made manifest in his message. At night six seekers were registered.

Our Band is making good headway under the leadership of Bandmaster Mills and the Home League members are shortly to hold a Little Wreath.

T. Gill, Treasurer.

ESSEX

Ensign and Mrs. Bowyer

We had Adjutant and Mrs. Bowyer with us yesterday. The Holiness Meeting was in time of refreshing and several Comrades re-consecrated themselves to God. In the afternoon we met in the Town Hall and the meeting was opened by the Adjutant, who gave a special address. An old-time Meeting was enjoyed at night.

GUELPH

Commandant and Mrs. Poole

Star Captain and Mrs. Kendall have just finished their Holiness Campaign in Guelph. Many came forward for Salvation and Sanctification. Much good has been accomplished amongst both the young and old. The service was very clearly and definitely defined and we believe its highest ideals will not be only sought after but exemplified in a more practical manner in the future.

Thanksgiving week-end was a busy one. The Band headed the Veterans' parade for their annual church service and on Monday morning they gave a Musical Festival at the Baptist Tabernacle. Among the items played were "Heavenly Treasure" and "Lamb of Calvary."

The Band had been hard by for transfers this year, but nevertheless they are still growing. The young Bandmen have been taken a series of boys in hand and is teaching them to become Salvation Army Bandmen.

Wm. Lorimer, Band Sec.

MONTREAL VI.

Ensign Purdon, Captain Cook

The Meetings for Armistice Day were conducted by our own Officers. In the morning the Band played members of the G.W.A. to the Baptist Tabernacle. The Commandant held on in our own Hall. It was a family Meeting and the address from Ensign Purdon was very impressive.

In our evening Meeting we had a good time. One boy was dedicated to God and The Army. At the close we had the joy of seeing two men and a boy at the Mercy Seat. Our Sunday night Meetings are well attended and we have had four seekers claiming full salvation.

WINDSOR, N.S.

Captain and Mrs. Rawlins

Thanksgiving week-end Services at this Corps were conducted by Major and Mrs. Burton, accompanied by the Halifax Band. The weather was ideal, great spiritual and mental growth was witnessed and after dinner four seekers claimed victory, two Candidates secured a big welcome and two Candidates secured a small victory.

The Band came along again on Monday night and gave us a Musical Program. The Hall was crowded. At the last Meeting at night, Sunday was a day of blessing. The playing of the Band also Bandman's testimonies were appreciated.

The Canadian Forestry never rests in its struggle to serve the trees of Canada. Its last move has been a 100,000 Canadian boys in Canadian Forest League.

1 Saturday afternoon last, Chester brigade had its first experience in parading, which was greatly enjoyed by the Cadets. Two of them after held a Meeting of three-quarters of an hour's duration.

1 North Toronto district a request was made that a Cadet should sing inside a house where an aged woman was dying. A Cadet went in and there the joy of pointing the woman's hand to Christ.

1 On Sunday night, November 11th, Cadets led the overflow Meeting at Earlscourt. A great victory was won and eight souls surrendered.

1 A blackboard was a great help in the Y.P. Open-air on Saturday afternoon; it proved of much interest to the crowd of children who gathered around.

1 At the Saturday night Open-air, led on by the Women Cadets at the corner of Dundas and Yonge, a large crowd listened in spite of the cold wind that was blowing and, best of all, a backslidder returned to God.

1 The Jessie Cadets are not going to be left behind in the "War Cry" race. This fact is proven by another increase of fifty copies.

1 What a privilege it was to attend a Cadet's Spiritual Day such as was conducted by the Commissioner, assisted by Mrs. Sowton and Colonels I and Mrs. Powley, on Tuesday, November 13th.

1 Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton are always welcome at the Training Garrison and Cadets are not slack in recording their Leaders the warmest of welcomes.

1 "The Army Spirit" was the Commissioner's topic for the day and it was handled in such a bright, interesting and earnest manner that it was eagerly absorbed into the minds and hearts of all who hung upon his words.

1 Open-air, though so frequently held, are by no means in danger of becoming a formal affair with Cadets, for always there is manifest eagerness to speak to the people about God and His claims. There is no wasting of the opportunities offered in these Open-air gatherings!

1 Valiant fighting is being carried on in the week-night Cadets' Meetings at the Temple and Yorkville Corps. On Wednesday at the Temple four souls surrendered after a mighty struggle, and at Yorkville, after the appealing words of Jesus, "Behold I stand at the door and knock," had been represented in series of talks and songs by the Cadets, six hearts for the Saviour in

NORTH BAY

Adjutant and Mrs. Speller Sunday November 11th was a memorable day in the annals of the North Bay Corps. "The War Veterans of the North Bay" led the services all day and labored splendidly, still retaining the spirit of service and gladness which they displayed while "over there."

In the morning Deputy Bandmaster Frank Saunders was the speaker and Bandmaster Barlow and Sherwin also took part.

In the afternoon the Band, numbering seventeen, turned out for a service at the Monument in Memorial Park, heading the parade of Service Men from the G.W.C. and Lions. Adjutant Speller took part in the service.

In the evening the Citadel was filled with an anxious crowd of people, who listened intently while the services proceeded, which was a bright and full of variety. The Veterans, numbering seven, occupied the front seats on the platform, wearing their medals, Bandmaster and Speller, Saunders, Sherwin and Bandmaster St. John. In charge, Bandmaster Sherwin recited the "old old story," which formed a special feature of the service and Secretary James, Holy City, effectively.

The Band and Singers also sang suitable selections very commendably. Bandmaster L. Saunders was the speaker and we had the joy of seeing fourteen soldiers at the Citadel.

The North Bay Band has recently been augmented by the addition of three new instruments. The money was raised mostly by special subscription, the citizens being anxious to see the band progress. The instruments added to the band are a BBB Bass, Slide Trombone and a Drum. The Drum bears the crest of North Bay on the shell. These additions set the band in trim and with plans for a good winter campaign we hope to realize sufficient funds to purchase more instruments by next Spring, as the band is growing steadily.

Adjutant Speller dedicated the instruments to God's service and The Army in the Citadel on Sunday evening last, and dedicated them to the players with the desire that they should be used to spread the Gospel through music and song. The Bandmaster invoked God's blessing on the service.

L. Saunders.

On Thursday evening a full session was spent with the Scouts and a very busy and profitable time resulted. Scout Leader Stoeckman had joined hand and faithfully for victory and it looks to be well in sight.

BARRIE

Captain and Mrs. Everett On a recent Sunday evening two Companies were invited into the home. We have commenced "Cottage Prayer Meetings," at which we have a good time.

On Saturday and Sunday last we were favored with a visit from Brother Banksley of West Toronto. His stirring message, both in the Open-air and inside, was most inspiring. Special Brother Stoeckman was also with us and our meetings are taking their stand for God in the Open-air.

MONTREAL METROPOLE

The band of the Montreal IV Corps gave a Musical Festival at the Metropole on Thanksgiving night. Every item rendered by the band and the different Companies, appreciated.

The Lord has helped a man who had strayed steadily for many years to stand true and the influence of his testimony in the Open-air to come.

The visit of Colonel Orlay for the week-end, November 14th and 15th, was a glorious event. The enthusiasm and interest of the people in the Meetings will long be remembered. Colonel's speech was followed by a Meeting at the Citadel on Saturday night with a splendid Open-air, followed by a Meeting at the Citadel.

After the Sunday Morning Open-Air Band proceeded to the G.W.C.A. Shrine where a public indoor service was held during which a wreath was placed upon the Memorial Cross, after which Bandmaster Adams played the "Last Post." The two minute silence was observed. After a service by Mrs. Captain McCallum the Veterans formed up and marched behind the Band to the Citadel for Divine Service. The addresses of Adjutant and the Staff-Captain were listened to with great interest.

At night after a Salvation address by the Staff-Captain we had the joy of seeing four seekers. The visitors time was well taken advantage of. Sunday owing to extra Meetings yet the found time to speak to the young people at the Company Meeting.

TERSEITIES

Envoy E. Pauline Swarts of Chicago, U.S.A. was a passenger on the boat from Australia as Colonel and Mrs. Powley. In a letter to Mrs. Commissioner Sowton, the Envoy states that the Chief Secretary gave a thought provoking speech, and that, with Mrs. Attwell, she seized every opportunity of speaking "the word in season." Referring to their Farewell Meeting in Auckland, New Zealand, the Envoy says, "The Citadel was packed and many Officers, including Lieutenant Colonel Henry, the Chief Secretary, paid impressive tribute to their work and example. Regarding the send-off, the Captain said, "The singing of those Salvationists really helped and blessed us all."

Bandman "Charlie" Mathews of the Immigration Department, I.M.G., looked into Headquarters the other day and renewed some "younger day" acquaintances.

Captain Mrs. Thorne and Lieutenant Elsie Coley have been appointed to Palmerston.

Mrs. Captain MacCallum of Dundas, underwent a second operation on Tuesday, November 13th. This was successful but our Comrade is still very seriously ill, and prayers are requested on her behalf.

Envoy Wass, Manager of Fairbank Industrial Store, is very ill in Grace Hospital. He recently underwent a serious operation. Prayer is requested. Envoy Wass has served for over thirty years under the flag in this country and in England.

Staff-Captain McElhinney is arranging to visit Guelph Reformatory for the purpose of enrolling members and presenting "Brighter Day League" Buttons.

Among recent gifts to the Toronto Carriage, it is an old-fashioned English Carriage. It is in splendid condition.

Captain Mae Bridges, having recovered from her illness, is back to duty as Police Matron at Brantford.

Captain Woodley, Chatham, has several police cases under his care.

Adjutant Lewis, Hagers, in the course of his prison work had opportunity to minister to three men, charged with murder.

Sherbourne Street Hostel, Toronto, continues to be well patronized. Extra beds had to be put up. On several occasions men have been turned away because of the lack of room. Com- mandant and Mrs. Green have made a family of nearly one hundred men to care for.

News has reached us of the Promotion to Colonel of Captain Francis Henry Fowler on November 11th. Converted at Parliament Street Corps, he was a lad, he later removed with his parents to Ohio, but prior to the war, in which he received a severe wound, he soldiered at Riverdale and was highly esteemed.

During the week Mrs. Captain Goodwin, of Picton, entered Hospital for an examination. Which revealed that she is in remission from the battle front for awhile. She has been in indifferent health for some time. Place her name on your prayer-list.

The Christmas "War Cry" is being shipped in big quantities, and it is anticipated that a record sale will be registered this year.

Captain and Mrs. Webbourne of Korea, have been appointed to pioneer a new district in the North. Mrs. Webbourne is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Orlay.

Colonel Orlay visited London and Chatham during the week for the purpose of inspecting and at London conducted the Central Holiness Meeting.

HESPELER

Ensign and Mrs. Chambers

Recently we had with us Commandant Burry from Guelph Reformatory. His talk about the work at the Reformatory, which he gave on Sunday afternoon, was most inspiring.

On Sunday night we had a special request. The Quartette went to the Baptist Church and rendered various items. Special Open-air Meetings were held in the afternoon.

In the evening our Hall was packed and the Sergeant-Major gave an inspiring message.

WIARTON

Ensign Waldron, Lieutenant Walker

The weekend Meetings were led by Sergeant-Major Johnson of Owen Sound, assisted by the Quartette.

On Sunday night we had a special request. The Quartette went to the Baptist Church and rendered various items. Special Open-air Meetings were held in the afternoon.

In the evening our Hall was packed and the Sergeant-Major gave an inspiring message.

BYNG AVENUE

Captain and Mrs. Morrison

On Saturday night Captain Morrison gave a stirring address on "Pence."

Ensign Pollock, Officer of East Toronto Corps, came in for a few minutes and spoke on "The Importance of Prayer."

Young People's Meetings are held before the Salvation Meeting on Sunday night, and are well attended. Our newly formed Orchestra is proving of much help.

Following the Captain's appeal at night one seeker sought pardon.

KITCHENER

A considerable commotion has been caused in Kitchener by a arrival of a real live drummer, Brother Roderick.

He was down in the gutter of sin and in days gone past had gloriously saved a man from the jaws of death. He has been on fire for Jesus. His address was a great success.

In the Salvation Meeting his thrilling testimony moved many to tears. Five seekers were registered.

BRANTFORD

Adjutant and Mrs. Barclay

On November 11th Captain Barclay was with us. The Meetings were very impressive and many were blessed.

Sunday night a battle for souls was fought and one seeker surrendered.

On November 18th eight wanderers returned and two came out for a deeper work of grace. We are in for a good time this winter.

Vera Stahl.

HINTS THAT HELP

Grease

When grease is spilled upon the kitchen floor pour cold water upon it at once. This will harden and prevent it soaking into the boards.

To Prevent Rugs Curling

To prevent rugs from curling at the corners bind them on the under edge with a piece of narrow webbing, like that used to hold furniture springs in place.

Finger Stains

Fingers stained with fresh fruit, walnuts, etc., should be dipped in strong tea, rubbed with a nail-brush, and then washed in warm water. Under this treatment the stains will soon disappear.

Musty Teapots

If metal teapots are not used for some time they are apt to become musty, and to give the tea a peculiar flavor when used again. This may be prevented by dropping a lump of sugar into the pot before putting it away.

Scouring Mixture

A good scouring mixture for floors and wooden shelves is made of half a pound of sand, half a pound of soft soap, and quarter of a pound of lime. Mix thoroughly and apply with a scrubbing brush, then wash off with plenty of clean water.

THAT "prevention is better than cure," is being proved by those who have fortified themselves against cold. Soufflés or all kinds are equally good, because they contain fat.

If we have not enough clothing we lose heat, because it passes off through the thin covering to the cold external air. Heat can be generated in the body by exercise.

Most of us have a general idea that we require more food in cold weather than in warm, of course, especially certain kinds of food. This is especially true of children. Fats and carbohydrates (such as potatoes, rice, tapioca, white bread, sugar of all kinds) are the fuel producers of the body.

Well-boiled oatmeal with cream or milk and sugar are an ideal heat-producing food; for while the cream supplies pure fat, the oatmeal is a carbo-hydrate (or heating food) of the best type, and it also contains flesh-forming material, which is growing children need. Sugar is another fuel-producing food.

The breakfast egg can be varied by serving it as an omelette. White fish must be decorated with butter sauce, and bread fried in bacon fat makes a change for breakfast.

Dinner should be another substantial meal. Lentil soup, or haricot

To Rest Your Clothes

The girl who goes home tired after a long day's work will find, even if it be an effort, that it is wonderfully refreshing if she changes her frock for the evening. Every girl should do her best to make this a habit, then it will come to be quite a simple thing to do.

Changing her frock rests not only the girl, but her clothes, and thus prolongs their life, and that in itself is of certain importance. Even the girl who lives alone should try regularly to change when she goes home. She will be surprised at the insuring effect it will have upon her outlook generally.

Every one should wear woolen underwear for warmth without undue weight. This aids the circulation and prevents children's blains.

If one should take cold, there are many means of nipping it in the bud.

There is no doubt that inhaling menthol from a dry inhaler forms one of the best preventive measures. Nearly all your druggists stock this kind of thing, but you will do away with this danger and thus save baby's eyes.

CAUSE OF WEAK EYES

BABIES are sometimes allowed to lie on their backs in their "prams" without any shelter from the sun, and one sees this more frequently in the summer.

There is no doubt that inhaling menthol from a dry inhaler forms one of the best preventive measures. Nearly all your druggists stock this kind of thing, but you will do away with this danger and thus save baby's eyes.

This is a very frequent cause of weak eyes in after-life. Equip your perambulator with a reversible hood, and see that it is used, and will do away with this danger. Thus save baby's eyes.

some of the joy-killers squealed.

But, as you know, the business of an efficiency expert is to get more "eggs" and less "cackle" out of hens, that is, they make things PRODUCE.

And they did!

It took about one squirt of Dr. Medicus' famous boos-ticus pepperino to start her sky-rocketing. But once she started, boost volunteers from all directions lent a hand.

You remember Moncton I. laid hold of a spoke of the right wheel and pushed with an increase of 100; while some twenty-five other Go-Ahead Corps also helped lift the caboose with substantial increases.

But there's always something to take the grin out of life. West Toronto cracked Sir Q.'s spark plug with a DECREASE of 25.

And just when we thought the old "Lizzie" might need a term in dry dock for overhauling, if the Training Garrison didn't come along and repair the damage by another increase of 50. Hard by came Shelburne with an increase of 15, St. Stephen with 30, New Liskeard with 10 and Kingston with 50. Aided by this re-enforcement of hefty beef the "bus" now lurches towards Forty Thousand and the Bend in the Road.

All the while the tall-hatted quack squats a-top the truck, and with a self-complacent grin, mutters, "I told you so—the 'liquid energetics' did it."

Are You Interested in the Young?

"Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto Me: for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven"
Matthew 19: 14.

IT was the hasty and unwise attempt of the Disciples to keep the young people away from Him that called forth the words from the lips of Christ.

That the Disciples wished to shut out the children from receiving Christ's blessing is not at all surprising when one considers the small importance that was attached to youth in those days. Even the children of well-to-do people were treated with scanty recognition, to say nothing of the poor and uneducated.

Herodotus, the Greek historian, tells us that the Greeks cared little, and troubled less, about their children. Fathers never recognized their sons until they had attained the age of twelve, when they were brought from the custody of their female guardians into the family circle. What a loss to the parents who were deprived of the association and love of their little ones.

This spirit of indifference to the training of their young people had evidently permeated the thought of the Jews. We cannot, however, say that the Jewish mothers on this occasion showed any lack of maternal love. On the other hand, that they were prepared to stand the scrutiny of the public gaze in seeking the Saviour's blessing for their offspring, proved that they had the very highest interest and well-being of their little ones at heart.

But with the Disciples it was different. They, apparently, did not realize the importance of youth, or the far-reaching result that would follow the imparting of Christ's blessing to these privileged children.

We do not doubt that they acted with the very best and sincerest intention. Possibly they argued that their Master's time was too sacred to be taken up by mere children. They felt they must spare Him all they could. He had had a hard and exacting day in repulsing the attacks and answering the many perplexing questions of the Pharisees, and He needed quiet and rest. These and similar thoughts doubtless filled their minds and influenced them in the rebuking of these earnest and anxious mothers.

Mark tells us that Christ was "much displeased" with His Disciples. How could He approve of such an action? It is foreign to His nature as revealed by His life and teachings, to turn away from any who seek His blessing, and He could not be other than indignant with those who, in their misguided zeal and folly, would have robbed the children of a share of His love and blessing.

The incident served a good purpose in affording Christ an opportunity, which He readily embraced, of quietly teaching a much-needed lesson, and also of instructing His Disciples in the nature and constitution of His Kingdom. He, who had a perfect insight into the future, and who knew the full value of young people, and the mighty part they were destined to play in the making of His Kingdom, was not slow to impress upon His Disciples the supreme importance of child life. The attitude of Christ has for ever swept away the idea that children do not count, and that it is immaterial whether they are brought to Him or not. It has also made manifest the tremendous responsibility which rests upon all His followers for the moral and religious training of the young.

The action of the Disciples may have been excusable, but any neglect on our part is inexcusable, and cannot but bring upon us the displeasure of our Saviour. With such an example before us; with the clear and definite command we have from Him, we cannot justify ourselves in any lack of interest in the salvation of the young people. And yet, after all that has been said and written, it is appalling to find how few, comparatively, are prepared to consecrate themselves to this great and holy endeavor.

The mistake the Disciples made was doubtless due to the lack of vision—their range of sight was limited. The prosperity of the moment, the success attending their Master's efforts, filled their mental outlook to the exclusion of every other consideration. They had no concern for the future. The immediate present was to them all important. Is not this why so many people to-day show themselves disinterested in the rising generation? We would not say that their apathy is the result of wanton indifference, but a clear vision and a wider outlook is very necessary. A sacrifice of a Senior interest in favor of a Junior is, in the long run, often the shortest way to success.

The young people of our land are hungering for Spiritual Bread. They do not know what they want, and in the hope of satisfying their natural craving they are feeding ravenously on the husks of worldly pleasure and sinful indulgence, which only intensify their hunger. It is the Living Bread they want. Christ is the need of the hour. The lack of Salvation is accountable for the restlessness of our age.

The responsibility of giving the rising generation the right training rests upon the seniors and parents, and the Campaign now in progress is an opportunity that every Comrade should accept. Don't wait until it is over to do something. Start now! Take new children to the Company Meeting, visit them in their homes, put forth some desperate effort and the results will be honoring to God. His Kingdom will be enlarged, not only in this land but, perhaps, to the uttermost parts of the earth, through your efforts.

BRING THEM HITHER TO ME

Remember Thy Creator in the days of thy youth.

Little children keep yourselves from idols.

A little child shall lead them.

Children, obey your parents in all things; for this is well pleasing unto the Lord.

Except ye be converted and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

A foolish son is the calamity of his father.

He that wasteth his father, and chaseth away his mother, is a son that causeth shame, and bringeth reproach.

Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not.
